VOL. XLV .... Nº-14,109.

At the meeting of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon all the seats in the hall not reserved for the nissioners were filled with principals and teachers of the public schools or those interested in the publi of the public schools of those interested in the public school system. The appointment of several principals was the cause of special interest and particularly the appointment of a male principal in the new school No. 82 of the Nineteenth Ward. George E. Hardy, the candidate passed by the report of the Committee Teachers, had been or enly referred to as Mayor Grace's candidate. None of the commissioners made reference to this in their conferences before the meeting, but several referred to the comments of THE TRIBUNE on the subject yesterday and some added that these comments were not too sharp. When the appointment was reached in the order of business Mr. Crawford asked that in the interest of economy M. A. Birmingham, principal of School No. 5, be appointed principal of No. 82, instead of Mr. Hardy, as Mr. Birmingham's school would soon have to be consolidated with another This request was not granted and Mr. Devoe sked that some explanation might be made by the Committee on Teachers respecting the qualifications of Mr. Hardy. Mr. Wood replied that he was at first prejudiced against the appointment of Mr. Hardy and in favor of Mr. Coleman, vice-principal of School No. 18, who was recommended by a minerity report, but after going to each school and listening to each of the teachers for an hour his prejudice against Mr-H ardy had ben removed, and he should vote for him.

No one can say," added Mr. Wood, "that Mayor Grace ever asked me to vote for Mr. Hardy. No one has ever approached me in his favor except my friend

Mr. Devoe-I would like to know if there are no other teachers in the Nineteenth Ward better entitled to this appointment than Mr. Hardy. If these rumors of political preference are true, I am not going to violate my conscience by voting for this young man. I had rather be in the minority.

Mr. Crawford—I cannot believe that the Board of Education will degrade itself by such an act of injustice as the selection of Mr. Hardy in place of Mr. Coleman, Hardy is a young man and may have a bright future as a teacher, but Mr. Coleman has a record which is perfeet as a teacher in our schools for thirteen years. Mr. Bardy's record is not perfect. I say that to ignore real merit by the selection of Mr. Hardy in this instance is an insult to all the teachers and to the school system of New-York. It is a degradation to this Board. Mr. Simmons-I do not regard it as an insult, Mr.

Hardy is competent it he is young. Mr. Ke'ly-I think we have a perioct right to vote for our friends and I am ready to do so. I have no axe to grind and I shall vote for Mr. Hardy.

for our friends and I am reacy to do so. I have no axe to grind and I shall vote for Mr. Hardy.

"I have something to say on this subject," said President Walker, yielding the chair. "I don't mean to impugn any one, but I regard it as my solemn duty to speak on this question and I am going to the bottom of it. It seems to me something extraordinary when a candidate of only five years experience should be carried over the heads of our oidest and best teachers. We have a civil service in our school system unlike that in any other city. The tenare of office for a teacher is for life, and we cannot afford to abandon this system. Now I object to political dictation in the Board of Education. It is the City Hall influence in this campaign which has brought Mr. Hardy to the front. I can name twenty vice principals in our schools entitled by promotion and merrit to a principalship before Mr. Hardy, the five-years candidate. I can name twenty assistant vice-principals. Personal solicitation has been coupled with official dictation to influence votes for Mr. Hardy. It is an open secret in this Board. Mayor Grace has a right to use his influence as an individual, but his official dictation I protest against, and to that of any Mayor, Gevernor or President I say that politicians must keep their hands off the school system. I am a Democrat of the same organization which should attempt to dictate to this Board. Here I have a letter from John Kelly in contrast to Mayor Graces action. Mr. Kelly had written me in behalf of a teacher. When he found that there were other candidates for the office she sought, he apologized and withdrew, leaving the matter to those whose business it is. Look at the ward trustees who favored Mr. Hardy—Dr. C. E. Simmons and Joseph Koch, both lately appoint ed on public boards of the city by Mayor Grace. I speak my feelings in this when I say we should resent seeh an appointment as doing away with the idea of merit, and biasting the hopes of those teachers who have not political influence."

Mr. Simmo

Mr. Seligman-I agree with the statement that Mr.

tappayer.

Mr. Selgman—I agree with the statement that Mr. Mr. Selgman—I agree with the statement that Mr. Hardy's appointment will be through City Hull infuence. It will add ten years to Mayor Grace's life and such appointments will make him the best Mayor New-York has ever had.

Mr. Devoe—I was not appointed to this Board through any request of my own. It I cannot act independently without official dictation I don't wish to remain in it. I shall readily say good bye to it and God help the school system.

The speeches of President Walker and Mr. Crawford were frequently applanded by the visitors. Some one added a fervent "Amen" to Mr. Devoe's remarks. At the conclusion of the discussion the vote was taken on the substitution of Mr. Coleman's namelor Mr. Hardy's Commissioners Crawford, Devoe, Holt, Wetmore, Schwab, and President Walker voted for the substitution and thirteen members against it. Mr. Crawford then proposed the names of several other candidates which were also voted down, and Mr. Hardy was then appointed by the thirteen votes against six. The question of the consolidation of down-town schools was postponed until October. A communication was received from the trustees of the Nineteenth Ward, exceptating Mrs. J. J. Hill, the principal of School No. 74, from the ceusure of the Board, No action was taken respecting it.

The Board appropriated $16,000 for the construction of fire alarm stands to connect the public schools with the headquarters of the Fire Department.

PROBABLY SUICIDE-POSSIBLY MURDER,

MORE HOLES FOUND IN A DEAD MAN'S HEAD

THAN EMPTY CHAMBERS IN HIS REVOLVER, As a man was strolling through the woods on Inwood Hill yesterday, and reached a secluded spot on the north side of Mr. West's farm he stumbled upon the decomposed body of a man lying on his back. Rounds-man Terry was informed and galloped his horse to the spot, and proceeded to find out the cause of the man's death. The body was that of a German, about thirtyfive years of age. He had light hair and a light mustache Near his right hand where it had dropped when he fell lay an oli-fashioned army revolver of a large calibre, with two chambers empty. Behind him was a black hat with the gilt paper initials "A. W." pasted inside the sweat band. On the lining of the hat was the maker's sweat band. On the lining of the hat was the maker's stamp, which was that of W. Brenning, No. 125 Thor Strasse, Stuttgart. Near his feet a light walking stick was found. The man's wearing apparel was of fine material and consisted of a gray mixed coat and wastcoat and dark mixed trousers. The fieth on the face was decomposed beyond recognition. No theory other than that of suicide is entertained by the police. But as there were three or four holes in the man's head which look like those made by unilets, it would seem as though there were more shots fired than the two from the revolver found. The holes are in the right temple and under the left ear. The police explain away those under the ear by saying that they were caten by insects while the body was in its present decomposed state. The body was placed in a coffin along with the revolver, hat and cane and taken to the Morgue where is will remain until viewed by the Coroner.

THE FALL OF PAINTER WILLIAM HOWE. An inquest in the case of William Howe, the rope of the scaffold, was begun yesterday by Coroner Levy. The case is made a test one under the new 1.ife and Limb Law, passed by the last Legislature, which makes the employer responsible for accidents in build-ings where proper safeguards are not employed. Such neglect is made a misdemeanor for which a punishment neglect is made a misdemeanor for which a punishment of imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than siz months, and a fine not exceeding $500, or both, is provided. J. G. Simmons, owner of the building, was present with a lawyer to defend himself. Two workmen thought the rope was a poor one and one that the acci-dent was due to Howe's own carelessness. The jury were unanimous from the start as to Mackin's guilt, and there was little discussion over the term of imprisonment. The delay in reaching the verdict came from the fact that the jury seat for and read taken to the jail, when he remarked to a reporter who had inquired how he felt about the verdict: "Well, you know, my boy, there are great changes come in many men's lives. The troops are dismissed and then comes the band concert. The 9th has a good band and a good drum major-in fact Drum Major Hill is one of the oldest and best men in the service. There is one thing, however, that troubles him and that is the order given at dress parade-" First sergeants to the front and centre double time, march!" The major has a habit, usual for some unknown reason with all of his fraterrity, of hitching his trousers just before starting off. So last night when the order "double time", was given the dear life, and during the dress parade the major's left hand was engaged as well as his right. Hereafter patent button holders will be the rage with Drum Major Hill. The officer of the day to-uay was Capitain Welcome B. Eanuall, of the 41st Separate Company of Syracuse; the senior officer of the guard was First Lieutenaut John K. Imilay, and the junior officer of the guard, Second Lieutenaut George F. Chafferion. The officer of the day to-morrow will be Capitain George T. Lorigan: the senior officer of the guard, First Lieutenaut W. W. Marks, and the junior officer of the guard, Second Lieutenaut A. About thirty-five men have qualified as marksmen since the regiment has been here. To-morrow Companies C and D will occupy the butts. To day Companies C and D will occupy the butts. To day Companies A and E have been shooting and have done fairly well. The dress parade has night was a decided improvement on that of the night before; the men marched more steadily and came upon the line more promptly. The hands however, were a little alow in coming down, in going through the manuel. The eche on movement was a success so far as sleady marching went, but now and then a man lagged in one of the companies.

SEED OYSTERS KILLED BY THE MILLION. NEW-HAVEN, July 1 (Special) .- Henry C. Rowe has just discovered on his Sound oyster beds a destructive mud coral insect which is killing seed oys-ters by the million. It has not yet been named scientifically, but has been submitted to the State Shell-fish Com-missioners for identification. Out of 100,000 bushels of ovsters planted by Mr. Rowe one year ago, in twenty feet of water, over 80,000 bushels have been smothered by the ash-colored cells of the pests which are built ali over the beds. The discovery excites much interest among oyster men along the Sound.

N UNSAVORY MORSEL FOR TANMANY HALL-WHAT THE APPOINTERS EXPECTED. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The appointment of Biegrapher Dorshelmer as United States District Attorney to succeed Elihu Root, and Martin T. McMahon as United States Marshal to succeed Joel B. Erhardt were formally announced to-day. Up to the last minute before the announcement of the appointments was made, it was stated at the White House that the places were still open and different candidates still under consideration, though it is now learned upon the best au to the State Department for the issue of the commissions was made by the Attorney-General yesterday. The endeavor to keep appointments secret, until formally announced did not succeed in this case.

The number of New-York politicians in Washington at the present moment is small. With the exception of a few doorkeepers and messengers of the House there are no Tammany statesmen here. Hence the interest and comment which the appointments excited were infrequent, compared with the criticisms which the appointment of Hedden, Burt and Beattie gave rise to on Saturday.

comfort from Mr. Dorshelmer's appointment. It is true he was "indorsed" in a perfunctory way by a Tam onel and positical debt incurred in the campaign. The Tammany leaders who called on him sometime ago were given to understand in unmistakable language that they could have Dorshiemer appointed if they united upon him, or go without any appointment at all. Rather than appear before the country as having had the cold shoulder turned upon them by the President in so decisive a manner, and fearing to become the laughing stock of the County Democracy if they did not secure some of the official "pap," they decided to swallow the bitter dose of Dorsheimer and pose before the world as people who had carried their point.

The appointment of General McMahon is not so well understood, though a few Tammany men are trying to make it appear that he was their choice and is one of them. His political status, it is understood, is non-committal. Unlike Dorsheimer, who is considered herd in the light of a political adventurer, McMahon has the reputation of a clean man and a straight forward partisan. He was formerly a member of Tammany Hall, but left that organization in the "great heights." Since then it is believed that he has affiliated with neither of the Halls nor with the County Democracy.

Great stress was laid at the White Houseyesterday upon the fact that neither Dorsheimer nor McMahon was a candidate for the places to which they have since been appointed. This is undoubtedly true. Both were candidates for a higher place, that of Collector of the Port, but like other candidates who hoped to land in the Cabinet and have since been content to accept positions at Chiefs of Bureaus and Divisions, they are believed to be willing to take what is offered them and not to grumble or try to make their friends believe they feel sore over what many people may be inclined to interpret as a grantitious insuit.

Word of the actual appointment of the new United States District-Attorney and Marshal had not reached the Federal Building when the offices closed yesterday

Dorsheimer and McMahon had secured the places. District-Attorney Root was out of the city all day, attending a college commencement. Marshal Erhardt was unwilling to talk about the summary closing of his official term, the assistants in the offices were for the most part ready to leave their places and do not expect reappointment. The Federal officials who were not directly affected by the changes, expressed themselves as pleased, with the character of the newly-appointed officials, but did not see why the changes were made so soon. The terms of the District-Attorney and Marshal did not expire for one or two years. The loss of District-Attorney Root, who has been regarded as extremely efficient and successful, was especially regretted by those who have business with that office. The new officials did not visit the buildings. Dorsheimer and McMahon had secured the places. Dis

BLOODY BATTLE OVER THE LIQUOR QUESTION, Mr. Sterling, Ky., July 1 (Special) .- A battle on a small scale took place last night at Stepstone, seven miles from here on the Chesapeake and Ohio road. The hole is filled to 400 feet with oil which re-sembles the Thorn Creek product.
